

SAPIENZA
UNIVERSITÀ DI ROMA

Doing Feminist Economic Geographies

3 June 2024

One-day event aimed at reflecting on the methodological, ethical and intellectual implications of doing feminist research

10:30 | Introduction (Cesare Di Feliciantonio)

10:45 | Part I

Marcella Corsi (Sapienza University of Rome) | Data feminism
Sarah Marie Hall (University of Manchester) | Seeking solidarity, finding friendship: co-creation as method and praxis for feminist economic geographers

Q&A

14:00 | Part II

Miriam Tola (John Cabot University) | Doing feminist political ecologies

Katherine Brickell (King's College London) | 'The Debt Trap':
Women's stories of navigating family homelessness and TA in Greater Manchester

Q&A

16:30 | Open Session

"How do we do feminist geography?"

Attendants are invited to share reflections, lived experiences and concerns around the question
"How do we do feminist geography?"

DEPARTMENT MEMOTEF | PhD Curriculum in Economic Geography and Territorial Statistics

Sala Lauree | Faculty of Economics | Sapienza University | Via del Castro Laurenziano 9 | Rome

Registration (free): <https://shorturl.at/anszD> | Info: cesare.difeliciantonio@uniroma1.it